ED. TIMES.—To relieve the hard-med and scattered senses of the Union correspondent, Remus, we want to tell him that neither dyspepsia, billiousness or physical derangements of any kind is troubling us so much as the best methods to adopt for retiring such corrupt office seekers as Remus, back among the dear people they would love so much to serve. Wonder if it ever occured to Remus that the doleful sound which vibrates on his sense of hearearing is that of his bee? It has al ways brought him defeat, hence its doleful sound. Poor deluded soul; let him burn it, it is not for the dear people's interest or that of his country, so the sooner he's consumed the better. We did hope the said writer would answer the points set forth in our article and give some plausible excuse for his course in the present county campaign. But we must infer by his not answering them that he has no answer which he would dare to set up before a reading and enlightened people. But contrary to our expectation, the whole gist of his article was devoted to excusing himself for being an office seeker and showing that it is not criminal to ask for an office. It was only a random shot we fired but it went home to the mark and brought out that open confession which is said to be so good for the soul. We agree with Remus and i was not necessary to have devoted so much time in establishing the fact that a man has a right to come out for office. Yes, it is best; it gives us a chance to investigave the character of candidates and lessens our possibility of making mistakes. Now if you noticed how hard he la bored to set up his proofs to make t plain that one has a right to run for office and in the same article mocking them, or trying to do so by his allusions to the democratic Party and its numerous candidates. What is the conclusion? At sea and lest in the fog of the third party movement. Now Mr. Editor we do not wish to persecute our brother or hold him up to ridicule, but to try and show the falsity of his posi tion. He has taken the stand that the old parties are both corrupt and through them we can hope for noth ing. Bless the old soul's demented take down your histories, platforms, papers and congressional records and tell us then what you see in the principles, votes and work of our democratic representatives in either

Remus if the old parties are to cat hat would be repugnant to re feasible plan of forming a third par-ty pure and wholesome out of the old. No sir, you can't do it The truth is that all third party moves have been led by corrupt office seeking individuals who have been sent back by the old parties to dwell among the dear people as it has Remus. Now, Uncle Remus, when you referred to the democratic party its candidates and salaries did you not notice your arguments were in favor of good salaries! Why sir, you branded our candidates all with being men of good heads, good business qualities and so on, which is evidence to your mind that salaries are too high, but to a well balanced mind that they are somewhere about right as it draws out men of that the offices to the scum and dregs of society. Very good, go on with your articles Ren.us, the people are going to vote right anyway and your arguments, if anything, will only have a tendency to make them stick the closer to the grand old ship of democracy which has always been doing battle for the great and noble principles of equal rights and not. exact justice to all. Again could a man of sound mind and partially posted in the history of his own state government claim that the democratic party has done nothing for this state? We think not. No Uncle Rumus you can't cram your o'possum broth down the democrats of your own township nor of the county. Just think of that wonderful change in the sentiment of the people of your township when you undertook to manipulate their polities to your own notion. That short democratic delegation you thought would be lost on or about May 24th, has turned out a formidable white elephant on your hands. You and your nearest friend might have ingenuity sufficient to run a cider mill, but far too little for running the grand old democratic party of this county or even your own township. Remus we think you are lost, lost to reason, lost to office, lost to yourself and to your family if what you say is correct. F. & L. U.
